Guernsey, Charles Arthur.

Wyoming cowboy days; an account of the experience of Charles Arthur Guernsey, in which he tells in his own way of the early territorial cattle days and political strifes, and deals with many of the state's and nation's famous characters. The author releases information heretofore unpublished and in great measure unknown except to himself, and tells of discoveries of paleontological value, made during his residence in the territory and state, covering a period of over half a century from 1880 to 1935. True to life, but not auto-

Guicciardini, Francesco, 1482-1540. La historia d'Italia ... 1563. (Card 2)

Printer's device on t.p. and on verso of last leaf. Portrait of author on verso of t.p. Side notes. Many errors in numbering. The first edition of this work was published in Florence in 1560, under the care of the author's nephew, Agnolo Guicciardini, and contained sixteen books only; the last four being published by the author himself in 1563, and they were not printed until 1784. The present edition was published by Francesco Benicagor, and like the first, contains only sixteen books, covering the years 1492-1530.
